

Dermatology & Vein Institute

Volume 3 Issue 2

Dear Patient,

We hope you had an excellent summer. We were able to celebrate our 8th anniversary in July and we would like to thank all of our patients who have helped make our practice successful. Please let us know if there is any information that you would like to see in upcoming newsletters.

In This Issue:

Luscious Lips - Permanently!
Fractional vs. Fractional Blog
Dysport - A Botox Alternative

Dermatology & Vein Institute
www.dermandvein.com
770 360 8881

Luscious Lips - Permanently

Many patients get injectable filler to plump up their lips. The fuller pout desired by many is now available on a more permanent basis. While previous treatments would wear off anywhere from 3 months to a year, PermaLip is a silicone implant that is a permanent alternative to injections. PermaLip addresses the issues caused by previous implants that may have made lips hard or rubbery. PermaLip is made of soft, non-rupture silicone that follows the contours of the mouth. Click here to read more.

Fractional vs. Fractional

Only a fraction of the question!

One common question I have had recently from patients is the difference between the fractional lasers. In order to understand the differences there are a few definitions such as fractional, ablative, and non-ablative that are important to understand. Click here to read more.

Dysport - A Botox Alternative

Cosmetic use of Botox was approved in 2002, and over 11 million treatments have been done since then with a 97 percent satisfaction rate. Needless to say, Botox revolutionized the field of cosmetic dermatology with its unparalleled safety, efficacy, and treatment success. Now, a new muscle relaxing protein called Dysport (or Reloxin) has won FDA approval. Click here to read more.

We want to thank you for being a part of our practice

Sincerely,
Dr. Tiffani Hamilton
Atlanta Dermatology,